The YMCA Camp Greenknoll Counselor-in-Training (CIT) Program offers 14- and 15-year-olds a hands-on opportunity to develop leadership, teamwork, and childcare skills. Through a combination of discussions, observations, and supervised activities, CITs learn responsibility and professionalism while assisting in camp programs.

Designed for youth ages 14–15, the CIT program focuses on leadership development, job training, community service, and mentorship. Participants earn community service hours by supporting camp activities and directly engaging with campers. Under the guidance of the CIT Coordinator, CITs receive mentorship that helps them build skills in working with preschool and elementary-aged children.

This program provides valuable experience for future goals, including college and career preparation, while creating meaningful memories for both participants and campers. CITs gain personal growth in leadership, responsibility, and teamwork, practical experience in childcare, mentorship, and community service—all foundational skills for future success.

Please note: Completing this application does not guarantee placement in the CIT program.
